Virgin deny problems over GP appointments

TV ALLEGATIONS WERE FALSE, CLAIM NEW MEDICAL CENTRE OPERATORS

A RECENT television expose which was highly critical of Virgin Care, the company which will be running Lyme Regis Medical Centre in the future, has generated concerns from local residents.

The Channel 4 Dispatches programme, titled "Getting Rich on the NHS", was screened at the end of last month and made a number of allegations against Virgin Care which have been strongly rebuffed.

One of the allegations centred around GP practices operated by Virgin Care in Northamptonshire and Oxfordshire where, it was alleged, patients were unable to get appointments with doctors. Virgin immediately issued a press release claiming that this assumption was "untrue".

The programme was watched with interest by Hazel Read, who was prominent in support of Dr Ian Conway's efforts to stay running the medical centre after he was given notice to quit by NHS Dorset following a lengthy dispute over the ownership of the building. Mrs Read immediately wrote to Virgin Care concerning the allegations made in the Dispatches programme.

Virgin chief executive Bart Johnson replied to Mrs Read, stating: "We reject the report in its entirety which we believe not only contained factual errors and incorrect assumption but was also deliberately misleading and potentially defamatory."

Mr Johnson said the allegation that in practices that Virgin Care operated in Oxfordshire and Northamptonshire patients were unable to get appointments with GPs was "untrue"

He continued: "Appointments were and remain available within 48 hours.

"The programme also referred to the use of locums but failed to point out that these doctors were used to cover a combination of sickness and maternity leave which is entirely normal.

"It was suggested that locums are somehow cheaper than employed GPs, which is untrue."

Mr Johnson also referred to claims made about sexual health screening and practices that it was alleged were employed to "hit targets". He pointed out that these practices were inherited and immediately ceased when it came to their attention.

Lyme man injured in microlight fatality

A LYME Regis man suffered a broken arm when the microlight in which he was flying crashed into the sea off Thailand, killing the pilot.

Patrick Esser, aged 31, was dragged from the sea by friends in power boats who were honouring a friend who had died of cancer Pilot Tom Grieve, 57, from Scotland, was trying to execute an emergency landing but slipped the on side of a newly constructed pier.

They hit the water at 70 mph and Mr Grieve died from chest injuries

Speaking from the Pattaya Memorial Hospital, 100 miles east of Bangkok, Mr Esser, who has a home in Lyme Regis, said: "I was making a tribute to my best friend when suddenly things went terribly wrong.

"My friend Stuart Long had died of throat cancer aged just 41, and we were about to scatter his ashes in the sea. I had done a rehearsal flight the previous day with Tom and everything went fine.

"We were at about 2,000 feet when the engine cut. Tom tried several times to start it but failed.

"He was gliding it down and aiming for a large piece of concrete to land on. We must have been going about 70 miles per hour when we clipped something. We went head over heels and crashed into the water upside down."

Mr Esser said he saw Mr Grieve surface and although he was in pain he "seemed okay". He added that he did not reply when he tried to speak to him as they were taken to hospital and doctors were unable to resuscitate him.

PAULA Douthett was born in Wisconsin, USA, in 1932 before moving to New York City to study dance where she met her husband, Bill.

The couple moved to Colorado to raise their two daughters before moving to England in 1975. A devout Christian, Paula has travelled the world encouraging worship through the art of dance. She and her husband now live part of the year in Lyme Regis and rest in the US, having grandchildren in both countries.

WHAT influenced you to be a dancer?

I always felt I was meant to do something new in dance and movement. I just had no idea what it was. When I went to New York to study I was lucky enough to train with modern dance reformers who wanted to create a new form of dance. When I started the course it was like a spark, I just knew it's what I had to do.

DID your parents approve of the profession?

When I came home from college and told my parents, my mother said: "I'm not surprised - you were dancing in the womb!" My mother was involved with the arts so it was no problem at all.

WHAT made you use dance more closely with the church?

After we got married we moved to Boulder, Colorado, to raise our daughters away from the rat race. We joined a Lutherian church there and the pastor visited us to ask what gifts we had to offer the church, I thought "Oh dear" and told him I was trained as a dancer. But the minister said "let's see how we can use this" and invited me to dance at the front of the church. It was a tiny space and I was used to a stage!

Finally, I prayed to Jesus to ask how I should do it and he showed me the way. Now I teach how to worship God through the dance.

WHY is dance so important for a person's spiritual wellbeing?

It opens you. Like singing, movement is a language. It expresses things, the movements express the words. It has this amazing effect of opening a person's emotions. It can help with grieving, depression and really can heal. In the secular world it is known

WHAT is the most extraordinary place you have visited?

I visited Poland when it was behind the Iron Curtain.

The people there were suffering terribly – no paper products and no soap products. Yet people had such faith and joy and this blew our minds.

We brought them supplies on one visit and they thanked us by giving us food including a month's worth of meat even though it was rationed. Their generosity and spirit was a great influence on me.

WHAT made you write an autobiography?

God told me to write it on my seventieth birthday. This was really tough for me - I thought "I'm a dancer, I use movements not words!" but that was my calling so I knew I had to do it.

I put it off for years until I got to 78 years old and I thought I'd better get on and do it! I visited a monastery in New Mexico where they held a writing weekend. I went on that and it really jumped-started my writing batteries. After that I wrote every day for two years until I finished it.

DO you miss writing the book now that it is fin-

I do, but I don't want to write another book. I find it incredible that a dancer should be there at a book signing, but there I was. I am just so happy now to feel that I have fulfilled my purpose on Earth. I still dance every day and I look forward to dancing in heaven, dancing with the angels.

YOU have lived in many places – which of them do you consider home?

When I moved to England in 1975 I was very homesick - it is such a different culture. But the Lord taught me that your home is anywhere the Lord is and now I can be happy any place - even a nursing home would be fine and I could call it home.

Paula Douthett's autobiography, "An Extraordinary Life an Extraordinary God" is available from Good Books in Gundry Lane, Bridport.

Emergency services 100 per cent against chopper closure of West Dorset's police, fire, ambulance, coastguard and lifeboat emergency services have voted 100 per cent against the closure of the Portland rescue helicopter – predicting that people will die if it is

A straw poll of 200 members of the emergency services has revealed unanimous opposition to the government's plan to axe the coastguard search and rescue chopper, which has flown almost 200 mercy missions this year.

The poll, conducted by the West Dorset campaign against the threatened loss of the key coastguard service, mirrors massive public feeling that the life-saving helicopter should escape government cash cuts.

"Although the emergency services answer to the authorities and therefore are not allowed to officially express their views. we have spoken to 196 members of the emergency services and they think the whole idea of closing the helicopter rescue service is crazy," said Mac Mc-Namee, spokesman for the West Dorset campaign.

"They all feel that lives will be lost if this cut goes

Campaigners interviewed 58 police officers in West Dorset and all were against the closure. Ambulance personnel voted 37-0 against the closure, fire service personnel voted 67by Geoff Baker edit@pemedia.co.uk 0 against, RNLI lifeboatmen 15-0 against and coastguards 20-0 against.

"These officers are the experts in emergencies, they have the experience to know what they are talking about and the government should heed their informed fears," said Mr McNamee.

Meanwhile 50 per cent of the voters of West Dorset and East Devon have petitioned the government to stop the shutdown of the Portland rescue helicopter raising fears for the safety of the seats of Tory MPs Oliver Letwin and Hugo Swire at the next general election.

Although both of the Tory MPs have lobbied against the closure, they are tied to their party line and that could cost them their seats as public opposition to the government-led closure is swelling by the day.

Mr Letwin, MP for West Dorset, and Mr Swire, MP for East Devon, face the prospect of a local backlash at the next election unless the government's stand on closing down the rescue helicopter is u-turned. More than 64,000 Jurassic Coast voters are now petitioning against the closure - around 50 per cent of the region's electorate.

This compares to just 16 per cent who voted in the elections

Organisers of the petition this week warned the serving MPs that they could be voted out of office if the government ignores the massive public call to save the rescue helicopter.

"If the government goes ahead with the axing of the Portland search and rescue helicopter, the people of West Dorset will remember this when it comes to the next general election," said McNamee, spokesman for the West Dorset campaign.

Mr McNamee started the petitions in July after he and his 13-year-old daughter Gaby were almost swept to their deaths in the freak floods of the summer. The Litton Cheney residents had to climb onto the roof of their Land Rover after flood waters engulfed the car. They were saved by the Portland coastguard's helicopter.

"When we were aboard the helicopter Gaby said to me 'Dad, if the helicopter had not saved us we would be dead, wouldn't we?' I said no, but in the back of my mind I knew she was

The government wants to shut down the Portland rescue service by 2017 to save money. Under government plans, the chopper, which has flown almost 200 mercy dash flights since July this year, will be replaced by a helicopter based miles away near The Solent - which experts say risks not reaching fishermen and sailors in time.

"In cold angry winter seas, survival time in the water is very short," said Mr McNamee.

"A matter of minutes makes all the difference between life and death."

Tory Richard Drax, has accused his own party of foolishness in closing the Portland search and rescue - predicting that it leave the government with blood on its hands.

"This is sheer folly. Lives will be lost if the Portland helicopter goes," said Mr

The government has also come under fire from the powerful Transport Select Committee, who have criticised the Department of Transport for not listening to the overwhelming public opinion of residents of West Dorset and East Devon.

The parliamentary committee said it was "surprised and disappointed" at Transport Minister Patrick McLaughlin's failure to consult the public on the closure.

So anxious is the government about the widespread opposition that it has issued a gagging order preventing coastguards airing their informed fears.

"The coastguards have been made to sign an agreement which prevents any member of staff talking or writing about anything to do with the closure," said Mr Mc-Namee.

"Since we started a written petition in July it has been signed by 51,000 people from the area. A further 13,250 have signed an epetition.

"The public are clearly against the closure in overwhelming numbers and I'm astonished that the authorities are ignoring this.

"I have no found one person in the area, young or old, who is for the closure."

Campaigners are asking all of the electorate of the area to sign the e-petition on the website http://epetitions.direct.gov.uk/peti-

Independent voted first Police and Crime Commissioner

tyn Underhill, who was second in charge during the Sarah Payne murder investigation, has been voted Dorset's first Police and Crime Commissioner.

> Mr Underhill recieved 51,930 votes - 60.1 per cent, ahead of Mr King with 34,451 - 39.9 per cent.

Labour's Rachel Rogers and Liberal Democrat Andy Canning were eliminated in the first round.

The BBC reported that the Tories left the building before the final result from the second count had been declared, refusing to share the platform with Mr Underhill when final declaration took place citing "negative campaigning".

After winning, Mr Underhill thanked the public for voting for him but blamed the government for the low turnout. Only 96,149 valid ballots were cast in Dorset, out of 588,436 registered voters 16.3 per cent.

"The government organised a bad campaign and educated the public badly," he said.

He admitted that he may only have won the vote based on the fact the public did not want the election to be political.

"I won every single area which clearly displays people do not want politics involved," he said.

During his winner's speech, Mr Underhill said the race saw him going "head to head" with Mr

"It got bloody and we now we need to heal, because I am here to represent everyone in Dorset regardless of their party preference."

He said his "number one" priority was to hire a Chief Constable with "with my vision".

"There's a lot to do in the first 100 days."

Mr Underhill moved to Dorset after retiring from Sussex Police in 2009 and went on to campaign on issues surrounding safequarding children, including Sarah's Law which was introduced in Dorset in 2010.

He has vowed to make tackling anti-social behaviour, reducing marine and rural crime and putting victims first priorities.

Uplyme elects new council chairman after resignation

UPLYME Parish Council has elected Councillor Peter Whiting as its new chairman.

The appointment came after the sudden resignation of council chairman Keith Killingback last month.

Councillor Whiting previously served as vice-chairman – the role of which was taken on by Councillor John Garland.

Various other appointments were also made to ensure the council's committees and working groups were at full strength, details of which can be found on the council's website www.uplymeparishcouncil.org

Following the resignation of Mr Killingback, there is now a vacancy which the council plans to fill with a cooption on December 12th. Those interested in serving as a councillor should contact the parish clerk Lois Wakeman on 01297 444707.

 COUNCILLORS expressed concerns over the poor state of some of the parish roads, particularly with potholes often in the same place as where previously repaired.

Members said that white markings indicating more substantial repairs had now been there so long without action that the paint was starting to wear off.

- COUNCILLORS were also disappointed that no members of the public had come forward following their appeal for self-help volunteers in the event of flooding. The latest news from the council flood working party can ben found on the "News" section of the website above.
- IT was reported that there had been five crimes in the parish this month, including an attempted theft and a theft from a motor vehicle in the Harcombe area with no suspects or witnesses.

There has also been a report of a vehicle stolen from the village hall overnight, a horse rug was stolen from a field in Woodhouse Lane and some felled trees were stolen

- THE council approved a revised contract and specification for the maintenance of its property for the next financial year starting in April 2013. Local contractors who would like to be considered should contact the parish clerk on the number above to discuss the matter or for an advance copy of the document, which will formally be put out to tender at the end of the year. Interviews will be held in early February and a decision is likely to be made at the February meeting.
- COUNCILLORS considered the following planning applications for Uplyme and found no objections:

Cherry fell, retaining stump and young growth at 11 Glebelands:

Construction of rear extension at The Garden House Mill Lane:

Amendments to previous application for construction of front extension with dormers and alterations at Coachmans Cottage, Woodhouse Fields;

Replacement two-storey and single-storey extension at Hideaway, Spring Head Road.

Councillors were concerned that two applications that had been approved by East Devon District Council were setting a trend for building extra dwellings outside the development boundary, unless the conditions on which they were approved were very strictly enforced. These were:

Variation of conditions of previous application to permit use and either ancillary accommodation or holiday let at Little Winters, Rocombe;

Variation of conditions of previous application to allow use as ancillary accommodation or holiday let at East Marches, Launchycroft.

Further details of all planning applications can be viewed on the council's website as written above.

• UPLYME Parish Council will host a public drop-in session at the village hall on Thursday, November 22nd to view the outline plans for the proposed new building for Mrs Ethelston's Primary School and other major sites that have been proposed for development by East Devon District Council over the next 20 years.

■ END OF SEASON: Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, with deputy town clerk John Wright (left) and lead volunteer of the Jubilee Pavilion, Chris Boothroyd, at the recent end of season party

Pavilion volunteers celebrate end of season

VOLUNTEERS of the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade celebrated the end of their season with a party and complimentary flights on Jurassic Airlines, now set up in the pavilion.

A total of 25,500 people visited the pavilion during its second season since the Marine Parade shelters were refurbished. The pavilion acts as a welcome and information point for visitors, linking with the town's Tourist Information Centre, with volunteers manning a reception desk and answering questions.

The pavilion was open seven days a week from March 31st to September 30th, plus weekends in October and for the whole week in October half term. This totals to 398 half-day slots covered by volunteers and those organising major events during summer. Visitors asked 7,500 questions, with an average of 140 visitors and 40 questions a day.

OPEN UNTIL

9pm EVERY DAY

Speaking at the end-of-season party, which was held recently in the Lister Community Room above the pavilion, lead volunteer Chris Boothroyd said that many visitors had expressed appreciation of the voluntary effort, as well as of the great improvement to the seafront brought about by the restoration of the shelters.

Mr Boothroyd thanked the town council's outside staff for their support, including works supervisor Elliott Herbert, Steve Hossack, enforcement officers Chris Mitchell and Alan Jefferies and Dave Henegan.

He also thanked all the volunteers for giving up their time

The Jubilee Pavilion is currently home to Jurassic Airlines, which is open for flights through time and space to the ancient land of dinosaur-inhabited Pangea through until late January.

fown goes potty for Pudsey

SCHOOLS in Lyme Regis went all out for the annual Children In Need campaign and one young girl even slept in the seafront shelters to raise funds for the charity.

Students from the Woodroffe School were joined in their fundraising efforts by Children In Need mascot Pudsey Bear. The big yellow bear visited the school for the day and watched 25 pupils in a sponsored leg wax, with Year 11 student Stephen Cable going that extra mile and having his eyebrows waxed too.

Pudsey joined in a number of games, including raffles, guess the name of the bear and "Where Will Pudsey End Up in the UK?" competitions. He also filled up on treats at a number of cake sales held around the school with cakes being made by economics students.

Other events inlcuded a silent auction and a football match between staff and sixth form students, with staff winning 10-7. Pupils also paid to wear non-school uniform, with a total of £1,200 raised on the day.

Headteacher Dr Richard Steward said: "I was delighted by the way in which the students embraced this year's Children In Need day and I am amazed by the total amount of money they have raised. Well done to everyone who took part. They have certainly set the bar high for next year."

viewonline24/7

■ HONOURING Pudsey Bear, children from St Michael's Primary School brought their own teddy bears to school for Children In Need. Bears of all shapes and sizes, including a few Pudseys, joined the pupils at school and helped to raise a total of £124.82.

■ LYME youngster Louise Powell highlighted the plight of the homeless and raised money for Children In Need by sleeping rough in the Marine Parade shelters. Woodroffe School student Louise, 15, was joined by her mother, Catherine Tobin, on Wednesday night when she stayed in the shelters from 9pm until the next morning. The teenager wanted to do something different for the annual Children In Need campaign and raise awareness of the struggles of those the charity supports.

B Sharp launching year long music programme

LYME Regis-based youth music group, B Sharp, is launching its new, yearlong music programme at The Hub on Friday, November 23rd.

The launch night will run from 6pm to 9pm and is open to all young people from the local area, who will have a chance to experiment with instruments, play music with others and share ideas of age-related music activities and events they would like to see in Lyme over the coming year.

This launch night will help develop the varied programme of activities scheduled for Tuesday night sessions which will start in the New Year, running from 6.30pm to 8.30pm.

The main age group for this project is 11 to 25 years of age, but organisers want to hear from juniors as well as interested adults and parents. The open event is free and there will be snacks and refreshments available, as well a a resident DJ to help youngsters try out the decks for themselves.

B Sharp will be recruiting young people aged 16 and over who have an interest in gaining work experience in one of the main project focus areas youth and community music events, event management, music marketing, graphics and design, fundraising, journalism or social networking. B Sharp is offering these work experience opportunities to young people, providing them with the vital hands-on experience needed to progress.

The project is funded by Youth Music, West Dorset District Council and Lyme Regis Town Council and is working in partnership with the Youth Service and the Woodroffe School's business department.

The project does not have a name at the moment so organisers are looking for suggestions.

A core group of B Sharp trainee music leaders have organised the launch event and will be helping on the night to welcome everyone, run the "have a go" music tasters and share ideas.

Lifeboat Operations Manager, Grahame Forshaw said: "This was a very generous donation to our lifesaving charity, and we will ensure it is put to good use."

Members of the lifeboat crew are also pictured (top left) showing off their Queen's Diamond Jubilee medals, recently awarded to all those who have served five years or more in the emergency services, including the RNLI.

portfolio of miniature pigs.

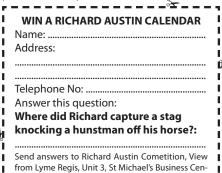

In fact, it was Richard and Buckfastleigh farmer Chris Murray who started the craze for photos of miniature pigs which are particularly popular in America.

Richard shot a video of the little pigs and it has been viewed by an unbelievable 750,000 people on YouTube.

He has also put up a video of a thrush singing in his back garden in Lyme Regis which has attracted-more than 100,000 views.

Richard has always been aware of how much the British like a good animal story and he has snapped some iconic sights during his career, none more famous than when he captured a stag knocking an Exmoor hunstman off his horse on the day that hunting was banned by the government, a photo wich went all round the world.

Richard sells copies of his Lyme calendar all over the world and has kindly donated six of them as prizes in this competion.

Woodroffe Association calling for more support from ex-students

LYME Regis Woodroffe Association Committee is anxious to get more members involved in the future of the ex-students' aroup.

The association, which represents former pupils of the one-time grammar school and current comprehensive from all over the world, adjourned its annual meeting because it was attended by just the officers of the committee.

The meeting has now been rescheduled for half term next February, when the official business will be followed by a social event.

Chairman John Broome said: "We are anxious to get a greater involvement from former pupils.

"We realise, however, it is difficult for people living outside of Lyme to attend the annual meeting when new ideas and the way forward may be formulated.

"We are hoping, therefore, that many ex-pupils will find half term a more convenient time, and may even make a weekend visit. It is obvious that the school is still viewed with great affection by so many former pupils who would like to see the association thrive.

"We organise a reunion every four years, but it would be encouraging to see more regular contact amongst smaller groups. We know that one is already in the offing, and we wish it well."

At a committee meeting following the adjourned session, it was agreed to donate £1,500 to a scheme to promote more reading in the school library.

The money will go more towards the provision of five Kindles, a widescreen LDC television for use as a computer monitor, wall mountings and a data faceplate to line television to computer.

Sailing club hosts annual awards held its annual dinner and awards ceremony at the Royal Lion Hotel on Saturday night.

The popular evening, hosted by Commodore David Beer, was attended by about 90 members, including the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, who is also the club's secretary, and Mayoress Jane Whitting-

Other special guests included Robbie Driver, President of Beer Sailing Club, and wife Jill, and Steve Smith, Commodore of Sidmouth Sailing Club, also with his wife Jill.

In his speech, Mr Beer spoke about the club's participation in the 1948 Olympic Torch Relay, which saw a replica carried from Torquay to Weymouth with Lyme sailors completing the last leg. Lyme cruisers were accompanied by two intrepid Phantom dinghy sailors, Dave Guthrie and Simon Clarke, who completed the six-hour sail and rounded Portland Bill safely. The Commodore awarded them a special trophy.

The Mayor thanked the club for actively supporting the town's many special events held during the

The coveted Sportman's Trophy, awarded by the Commodore for service to the club, went to Trish Webster

Scouts celebrate success News in a Nutshell at district box cart races

■ ROAD RACER: Charmouth Scouts' 'Flintstone' cart roars away at the start of

THE 1st Charmouth Scouts' box carts have proved successful at the District Scout Races

Six boys and six girls from the scout troop joined with fellow scouts from across West Dorset at Freshwater Holiday Park in Burton Bradstock last Sunday for the annual Scout Box Cart Race.

Each of the 16 carts had to tackle three different events - a road race on the tarmac paths, an off-road course around a very bumpy field and a downhill sprint.

This year the off-road course was made even more challenging as teams had to take their carts around a post located in slimy mud and placed perilously close to the edge of the River

The Charmouth Scouts entered three carts, two of a conventional design and one made from broom handles and old wooden cable drums lashed together. Although the latter looked out of place against carts with pneumatic tyres, it performed well, stayed in one piece and came third in the downhill sprint.

Charmouth's lead cart fared even better, coming second in both the road and the off-road races. This meant it came overall up when the times for all three events were com-

Hix launches new baking book in styl mostly filling my fridge with salt - sort of on the advice of Dorset and London top chef and Lyme restaurateur Mark

BOOK LAUNCH AND DINNER REVIEW By Geoff Baker edit@pemedia.co.uk

Along with more than 50 other diners I sat down at Hix Oyster & Fish House on Cobb Road for a dinner launch of his latest cookbook, "Mark Hix On Baking", at which the great man chatted between five courses on what and how to bake.

Among the expert tips and anecdotes which I noted down - including the unexpected info that his food hero was Georgie Best - was Hix's urging that we should be more creative in the kitchen, especially when it comes to our fridges.

"People fill their fridges with far too much," Hix told the most glamorous clientele I've seen eat in Lyme since Meryl Streep & Co. took over the old Devon Hotel during the making of "The French Lieutenant's Woman".

Consequently they end up chucking a lot of it away and they waste food. I'd like to see people getting more creative with what is actually in their fridge already, make a meal from what you've got."

ever else that I forget he said goes into it.

As my fridge contained a quarter of an old tube of tomato puree, some limping broccoli that the guinea pig wouldn't eat and various foodie flotsam, including one sausage, half a pear, chutneys of "Antiques Roadshow" vintage and other jars that have long-passed their Poison By date, since his talk I have taken him sort of at his word and have bunged the lot.

Instead, I have filled it with salt and a fish. Now I am watching at the curtains for the unannounced approach of any revellers whom I can delightfully surprise by knocking up Salt-Baked Sea Bass (page 54 in the cookbook).

There's

much élan called for when you're basically baking a fish in a kilo of wet salt - like all the recipes in the cookbook, said Hix, "none are daunting". Certainly none of the diners appeared daunted in enjoying their Brownsea Island Oyster and Chorizo Pie, the second course which preceded Baked Loch Duart salmon in a honey, mustard and dill crust and the main of Black Mount red deer and parsnip hotpot. "God, this is good," said my host and the evening's compere, Philip Evans, as he spooned down the chocolate and almond pavlova.

Hix smiled as all around him heads were down intently over plates. As he'd said earlier, the raison d'etre for him now owning six restaurants across the land is "customers' happiness, that's the most enjoyable part

More questions to and answers from the chef followed, from which we learned that he "hates" television, which is why you don't much see him on it, that eating at Hix is not the expensive treat we thought - "it's a myth, you can have a three-course meal here for twenty one quid" - that, like Paul McCartney, he never reads any of his reviews, that he wrote all 200 recipes in the book going up and down from Axminster to Waterloo on the train, and that his Tramshed restaurant in London fills its 10,000 square footage with more than 600 diners on a Saturday.

We also learned that next September Mark Hix plans a massive Food Rocks festival on Lyme's seafront, which should pack the town to the gunnels with visitors as he and his famous chef mates demonstrate dishes which will cause salivating mastication in the Regis.

Despite Pip's expert interrogation, Hix wouldn't much be drawn on the debacle that this year caused the calloff of his planned food festival after confusion that his lobster thermidor baked potatoes [page 81] might confuse the demographic looking for scampi and chips en basket.

"It's tough in a small town that should be promoting tourism," was his only, but pointed, remark on the subject.

And, of course, he is right. For a town whose lifeblood is its visitors it is insanity to deter the enthusiasm of the only trader in the town who actually draws people to Lyme from far around and abroad. Sure, Lyme has its good shops – in particular its fishmonger, cheesemonger, bakery and the beermonger of the Town Mill - but never in my 56 years have I heard of anyone coming here from Birmingham for the

Whereas in Hix's place on this dark, cold Monday night, was a glamorous crowd some of whom had come from Oxford and London for the book launch

Hopefully, Hix will continue to draw more of that chic crowd, as those of us who have lived here long enough know, there's no great future for the town as a resort if we go back to the Kiss Me Quick level that made Lyme a pit in the 1970s.

And that may well be on the cards – the eagle-eared among us heard Hix guardedly mutter that he had "had a few conversations with Palmer's" about there being a Hix establishment at the bomb site impersonation of The Three Cups, which the brewery now intends to develop. I do hope so, another Hix Fix would be good for the new Lyme that needs to be nudged upmarket or else disappear in its dayglo into the sea. Whether Hix beats kitsch is in the Russian roulette hands of our planners and what they will decide is anyone's guess. But if they or indeed any council party had been among the elegant diners for the launch of "... On Baking" they and the traders would love to see the likes of this Louboutin-heeled lot trotting down Broad Street ready to spend.

TEST DRIVE OUR ELECTRIC CAR THIS SATURDAY 24TH NOVEMBER 10AM - 4PM

BRIDPORT UNVEILS FIRST EVER ELECTRIC CAR-CHARGING POINT

OFFICIAL LAUNCH THIS SATURDAY

renewable energy showrooms, the CORE in Bridport, Dorset, will be proudly unveiling the first electric car charging port in the local area, at a launch event on Saturday 24th November.

FJ Chalke Nissan in Wincanton has loaned A P Chant an emissions-free Nissan LEAF electric car for a three month period. The loan of the vehicle will enable the sales team at AP Chant Renewable Energy to visit their customers and drive to and from site surveys in a completely carbon neutral vehicle, further promoting the use of eco-friendly green energy sources.

They will be re-charging the LEAF through this charging point outside their high-tech showroom "The Core" The Centre of Renewable Energy at Gore Cross Business Park. Opened in April 2012, this unique building showcases all renewable technologies in a fully working interactive form with dedicated trained personnel on hand to advise on the installation of the latest environmentally friendly products and systems available.

Lucy Chant, director of the Core, said: "The addition of a car charging port seemed a perfectly natural fit at the CORE. Along with our solar PV, solar thermal, heat pump, biomass boilers and the rest of our range of energy saving products, we hope that locals will come and make use of our vehicle charging station once they decide to upgrade to these energy efficient cars!"

The launch event is planned for Saturday 24th November at The Core in Bridport from 10am to 4pm. F J Chalke Nissan will be bringing extra Nissan Leaf vehicles for motorists keen for a test drive. The sign written LEAF, one of the cleanest

NE of the South west's largest and most innovative cars on the planet, will become a familiar sight on our local roads. It's very economical to run with no road tax to pay, maintenance costs are minimal (up to 15% less as there are fewer moving parts) and attracts no Benefit-in-Kind company car tax, potentially saving drivers thousands every year when compared to a similar-sized diesel rival.

> Nissan believes fuel savings could add up to around £800 a year over a typical annual 9,300 mileage in comparison to a diesel rival. Expect this car to cost you about £2 in electricity every time you charge it up from empty to take your range from zero to around 110 miles.

> Lucy Chant and manager of the CORE, Dan Clist took the Nissan LEAF for a test drive and were impressed by the acceleration and handling. It offers a whole new concept of driving when compared to normal combustion engine cars whereby drivers are encouraged to be aware of how they are driving to prolong the range of the battery. The more environmentally friendly way you drive, the larger a tree grows on the dashboard!

> More test drives are planned for the 2013 when FJ Chalke Nissan and AP Chant Renewable Energy will be promoting the use of the Nissan LEAF at one of A P Chant's once-amonth "Meet the Experts" events on January 26th 2013.

> To find out more about the Nissan LEAF contact FJ Chalke's dedicated Electric Vehicle Relationship Manager, Sharon Fay, by calling (01963) 834486. Should you be interested in the electric car charging point or any other renewable technology, visit the CORE at Gore Cross Business Park, Bridport, DT6 3FH or contact Lucy Chant on 01308 420170 or lucychant@apchant.com but, personally, I respect the honourable decision of this newspaper's editor to hold up his hand and admit to a mistake ("Halls kerfuffle was down to me!", View from Lyme Regis, November 14th).

What's the advantage of joining things up?

I would like to think that, as a result, others will get more into the habit of doing the same. I expect they would find it turned out better for everyone, including themselves

Philip Evans' comments included an admission that he had gained competitive advantage. Well, thank goodness there is at least some element of open competition in the way the latest big community property development project is being conducted. It's also worth bearing in mind that, when he admits to acting out of financial self-interest, it was at least balanced by his company shouldering the financial risk of his actions.

It seems more important to think about how a community's democracy is improved when things are openly discussed at this sort of level in public media.

Surely it is for the best when projects are discussed openly and thoroughly at the idea stage? ("Woodmead plan: only an idea", View from Lyme Regis, November 14th). If left till later, developers' minds become partially or even fully clouded by their emotional and financial attachments to their plans. Or their discussions with funders may have generated deadlines and "take it or leave it" ultimatums.

much information as possible being succinctly and unemotionally presented on paper. People at all levels need to be given time to consider proposals and alternatives. Otherwise it is not always clear what has been agreed on. For example, Councillor Williams thinks Lyme Regis Town Council has broadly supported these latest plans because of a threat from Dorset County Council to our library. But Lyme Regis Development Trust's statement seems to assume DCC will still be paying for, and quite possibly still running, the library in the new building.

As for the information that has been published thus far, I am left wondering do "users" want to be "cross-

And what exactly is the advantage of joining things up in a complex management structure? The risks would seem substantially more obvious.

Where is the "viability study" which apparently supports this? And when spokespeople say they "believe the majority would agree" with their plans and ideas, should we be impressed? Or offended that anyone should assume that such beliefs amongst those trying to gain money, power and prestige from a public project apparently without carrying the risk - matter one jot?

Don't expect gulls to change

■ YOUR correspondent Chris Court, from Exeter, wrote a dramatic account of losing a pasty to a swooping seagull when on Lyme promenade recently (Lyme Letters, November 14th).

They quite rightly state that these birds are protected but ask your readers, "who is protecting the public?".

Fortunately, the vast majority of people who choose to live in or visit coastal resorts accept that these seabirds are its natural inhabitants and actually like them.

However, in places such as Lyme Regis gulls have noticed that human beings have the habit of eating outside dawn-to-dusk. Gulls being ever-hungry and quite clever, will therefore hang around to grab and eat whatever and whenever they can, and will live and multiply where there is such a reliable food-source. So, it falls to human beings, i.e. the ones with thinking-skills (and the choice to eat inside or at home) to do what they can to avoid or reduce nuisance from the gulls on the promenade.

I wonder, when the Exeter visitor had the pasty knocked to the ground by a gull, did they expect the flock of hungry wild birds not to devour it but to show table manners and stand back?

With sensible precautions, it is quite possible to snack at described, as hundreds of people, local and visiting, manage to every day. So, Exeter visitor, I hope that you will have a more successful pasty snack next time you visit Lyme, but please don't expect the gulls to adjust their behaviour. And please don't kick them.

Thank you for handing in purse

■ A HUGE thank you must go to the very kind person who handed my purse into the local police station.

I dropped it in the Woodmead Halls Car Park on the afternoon of Thursday, November 1st on the way to meet my family in the town for a coffee.

Almost as soon as I realized it was not in my bag, whilst sitting in the café, I received a phone call from a policeman to say he had delivered my purse home!

What an amazing set of circumstances and how lovely to be on the receiving end of such kindness.

Having since called at the police station on four occasions I have been unable to enter and find out who to thank personally so hopefully the person concerned and also the policeman will read this as an expression of my heartfelt thanks.

Fireworks finale for The Great Pudding Race

Lyme Regis is due to finish in spectacular fashion.

The Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race is being staged on the Marine Parade on Saturday, December 15th from 11am to 4pm to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

And as soon as it gets dark after the event, the skies over Lyme Bay will be illuminated by a fireworks display - thanks to the generosity of the Cobb traders.

The fireworks display is being organised by town and district councillor George Symonds, who runs the Amusement Arcade on the seafront and is the main sponsor of the Christmas Pudding Race.

Said race organiser Philip Evans: "We are delighted that we can finish the day with a fireworks display which should keep visitors in the town after the race and our other events finish.

"We would like to thank George and all those traders at the Cobb who are contributing to the cost. I can't think of a better way of finishing what we hope will be a very special day for Lyme Regis, attracting hundreds to the

Mr Evans also reported that as well as generous support from Councillor Symonds other seafront traders had made donations towards the cost of staging the pudding race.

These include the Lyme Regis Antiques & Craft Centre, run by Colin Willis, The Bay Hotel owned by Brendon and Lynn Cable and Just Casual Wear in the Old Bonded Store run by Fiona Marler.

Continued Mr Evans: "The day's events are costing around £1,500 to stage and we are trying to cover all of these costs through donations and sponsorships so that every penny we make on the day goes to Cancer Research UK."

Anyone who would like to make a donation should contact Mr Evans on 01297 446155.

A Christmas Market is being held alongside the pudding race and other events on the day will include a mince pie bake-off and a world record attempt on mince pie eating.

Children's favourite cartoon character Peppa Pig will be making an appearance and Father Christmas will be accompanied by

The big switch on

YME Regis prides itself on having the best Christmas illuminations in the area - and this year will be no exception.

Financed by fundraising and donations organised by Councillor Barbara Austin MBE, the Lyme illuminations will be turned on at 5.30 pm at the bottom of Broad Street.

The ceremony will be performed by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, and will follow the Christmas Parade down through the town

A number of other festive events are being organised during the day the Lyme Traders' Organisation, including a Christmas lantern workshop and competition, an adult hat competition, street theatre and a Santa's Grotto.

Many of the shops will be staying open until 7 pm and traders will also be giving away festive goodies during the afternoon.

In the early evening the Stage Door Bar at the Marine Theatre will be serving mulled wine.

Lyme's other big Christmas event takes place on Saturday, December 15th with the staging of the Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race on the Marine Parade (11 am to 4 pm).

Teams of six in Christmas costume will be racing over an obstacle course carrying a Christmas pudding with a number of ancillary events also being held to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

The event will be opened by Lyme's very own royal couple, Queen Franny Allen and Prince Philip Chris Boothroyd.

These and many other events are listed in a special Christmas In Lyme Regis leaflet available at the TIC and local shops.

Serendip

SERENDIP: the ancient name for Sri Lanka, before Ceylon and meaning 'Treasure House'. True to its name, Serendip at 11 Broad Street really is a treasure house of books – and so much more besides. There are gift ideas galore; a super selection of quality greetings cards and wrappings; great-value Naxos CDs; Christmas cards, calendars and diaries; jigsaws; games - all of which come with a FREE same day delivery service.

We keep an average of 12000 book titles in stock, most others being available through our 24-hour ordering service. Being independent, we are free to select from the 1000 or so books published in the UK each week from any publisher, in order to provide our customers with a wide range of choice. Our team is always happy to give advice and share their enthusiasm for reading with customers.

When it comes to customer service, we strive constantly to 'go the extra mile' and perhaps most of all, we pride ourselves on being your local independent bookshop.

We love the festive season here at Serendip, and we would like to take the opportunity it provides to offer all of our customers huge thanks for their loyalty, and pass on our sincere good wishes for a joyful Christmas, and a peaceful New Year.

Lyme's Fish Bar

LYME'S Fish Bar has been in business in the world heritage site of Lyme Regis for many years and was the first take-away in the town after the Second World War. Lyme's Fish Bar was founded 27 years ago by the Pelaou family and remains in their capable control.

Here at Lyme's fish bar, we cut and fillet our fish onsite for maximum freshness.

Our chips are hand-made from the finest Maris Piper potatoes, which are peeled and chipped on the premises for extra flavour.

The building that we operate in fits very well with this historic town as we are situated on the old main street known as Coombe Street (formerly known as Horse Street in the 19th century) and was the only route into town.

The building itself dates back more than 500 years and was once used as the parish poor house.

Our second outlet is situated along the seafront very close to the beautiful sandy beach. This is a take away only site, so you can enjoy your fresh fish and chips on the beach.

Lyme's Fish Bar will be open until 9:30pm so make your festive evening complete with a stroll around the corner for a warming supper from 'the chippy'.

Clarondene

Happy Christmas Cyril!

AS Cyril approaches his 5th Christmas season at Clarondene, we wish him very special greetings for the season. I know he loves Christmas so we will plan for a bumper year-end, full of fun. I know how much he enjoys Advent, planning the gifts and cards he gives, and as a life-long Christian, the singing of carols, Christmas services at Bethany Chapel, Nativity and all the cultural traditions of this time of year. At Clarondene, we decorate on December 1st indoors and out: corridor, bedrooms, living room, garden and balcony. During the past 5 years, we have enjoyed visits from various musicians including the Lyme Regis Junior Town Band, a yr6 group of carol singers from St Michael's School, and usually have a Christmas Eve visit from Father Christmas himself which causes amusement or confusion depending on how unexpected his arrival is! He doesn't bring his reindeer, but maybe he tries to avoid frightening the cats, rabbit and guinea-pigs. This year we are really hoping for a super experience of a group of 3yrold Ballet Dancers to perform for us! We always have a rousing evening Carol Service hosted by our friends from Bethany - this year on 18th December, so join us if you can!

We include in our thoughts and good wishes, especially at this time of year, those whose lives ended here, safe and surrounded by those who cared for Belfast, Northern Ireland, who formed in 1977, at the height of the Troubles. They started out as a schoolboy band called Highway Star (named after the Deep Purple song), doing rock covers, until they discovered punk.

Along with the likes of the Clash, Sex Pistols, The Jam, Skids, Buzzcocks, Undertones, Sham 69 and the Stranglers they were at the forefront of the punk movement. They enjoyed six years as one of the biggest ticket draws in the UK and recorded three more studio albums - Nobody's Heroes (1980), Go For It (1982) and Now Then (1982)

They split up after six years and four albums, although they reformed five years later, in still touring and recording as of 2012. Jake Burns, their lead singer, is the only member to have been with the band during all its incarnations, but in March 2006, original bass guitarist Ali McMordie rejoined them following the departure of The Jam bass player Bruce Foxton after fifteen years. The response from the fans has been tremendous.

Though focused on their new material, they always play the old favorites at gigs. Jake said, "You have to strike a balance. The difficulty with a band like ourselves is to try not make it sound like a cabaret band. Obviously, it'd be very easy to go, 'Hey, here's another old one you may remember.' A lot of the old songs the audience greet like old friends....I suppose it's any length of time....And yes, there are nights that we don't particularly want to play "Alternative Ulster" or "Suspect Device" because we've heard them 'til they're coming out our ears. But there's always the possibility that somebody out there has never seen the band before, never heard them."

Stiff Little Fingers are playing live at The Electric Palace on Sunday, November 25th. Tickets are selling quickly from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901 £18 (plus booking fee) in advance / £20 on door if not sold out. Online at www.seetickets.com Ages: 14+ Under 16s to be accompanied by an adult.

Whole lotta change for Whole Lotta Led up (and having just beaten the length of time Led Zeppelin were together), Whole Lotta Led have undergone a change in line-up. Joining the band on vocals is Lee Pryor, who effortlessly reproduces Robert Plants amazing vocals, new drummer Charlie Hart, a gifted musician who has long admired John Bonham's drum style and David Wykeham-George who, as well as playing keyboards, will also be contributing guitar and backing vocals. Don't worry though, founder members Nick Ferris (guitar) and Geoff Hunt (bass) are still there, continuing the formance is as high as it can be. If you haven't seen the band before you'll be well impressed and if you have seen the old band, come and witness the amazing changes, Whole Lotta Led just gotta Whole Lot Better.

Whole Lotta Led play at Bridport's Electric Palace on Saturday, November 24th. Doors open 7pm for 8pm start. Tickets cost £12 (plus booking fee) in advance, or £14 on the door, and are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre, telephone 01308 424901.

Wessex Military Band Christmas Concert

A STOLEN minibus and damage to several expensive instruments during the course of this year have not put off the Wessex Military Band performing across the country and in Europe.

Thankfully, due to the diligence of our local police, the band minibus was eventually recovered and useable, but definitely the worse for wear. However, the determination of the band not to let its patrons down saw the voluntary members and other bands rally round finding ingenious ways of transporting the vast amounts of equipment needed during the minibuses absence and finding replacements when players were without instruments to play. All in all this year has proved that the music community continues to be strong throughout the whole area and beyond, each band supporting the other where needed. If you are over

16 years and would like to become a part of this community by joining the Wessex Military Band please contact them by phoning the number below. All sections of woodwind, brass and percussion required.

Following the bands appearance at the very successful Bridport Remembrance Parade on 11th November they are holding a Christmas Concert at Bridport Arts Centre on Sunday 2nd December at 3pm and welcomes everyone to come along for an afternoon of musical entertainment to cheer up your winters day. Why not have Sunday lunch out, enjoy the concert then home before the cold evening sets in, a lovely treat.

Tickets: £8.50 /£6.50 concs - please contact

Bridport Arts Centre -Box Office 010308 424204 and online. The band looks forward to seeing you all.

For more details visit www.wessexmilitary-band.co.uk or call 01308 425010.

Cantamus choir announces Advent series of concerts

LOCAL choir Cantamus will perform three concerts during the forthcoming Advent season.

Cantamus was established earlier this year and has already given two successful series of concerts, one at Easter and one during the summer. Its members – most of whom live in Bridport, Lyme Regis or the surrounding villages – are like-minded singers who enjoy performing choral music to a high standard and are brave enough to attempt unfamiliar works.

The Advent concerts will include a wide range of carols, from medieval works in English, Latin and Catalan to examples of the very best modern writing. Il like to base a programme around music that has stood the test of time, adding some newer pieces for variety," says Musical Director Malcolm Knowles. "There will be works that the audience will recognise – the jolly medieval carol 'Gaudete' and the traditional 'Sans Day Carol' – as well as some they probably won't have heard before, such as the 'Echo Carol' by John Steel. We're also doing the 'Corpus Christi Carol' by one of our tenors, Matt Kingston, and three lovely pieces by Richard Lloyd, a contemporary composer with a local connection – he married the daughter of the vicar of Loders. I hope our listeners will approve of our choices."

The Cantamus Choir will perform at St Candida & Holy Cross, Whitchurch Canonicorum on Saturday November 24th at 7.30pm (tickets £8); The Chapel, Forde Abbey, Chard on Wednesday, November 28th at 7.30pm (tickets £10); and United Church, East Street, Bridport on Sunday, December 9th at 6pm.

Tickets will be available on the door at each venue. For more information about the choir, please visit www.cantamus-dorset.org

Something special for classical guitar enthusiasts

YOU can hear the lovely guitar concerto in D by Vivaldi performed live on Sunday, November 25th at St Swithun's Church, Bridport, at 3 pm.

The soloist, Darren Ellsmore, is a husband and a father. He also plays the guitar. Having studied classically with some of the world's leading names, such as Gilbert Biberian and David Leisner, Darren has developed a reputation as a versatile musician. Alongside regular classical recitals, both in the UK and abroad, he performs with acoustic pop act Darren and the Ellsmores, and as producer for Ruth Hill. He currently works for the music publisher ABRSM, in London. Darren will be accompanied by the Brid-Chamber Orchestra and tickets will be available on the door at £8, free entry to students. Delicious home-made cakes and tea will be offered after the concert, which will include the popular Holberg Suite by Grieg.

tarist and singer who writes and plays an eclectic mix of music. The individual pieces tap into blues, ragtime, rhythm and blues, music hall and folk traditions. Some are extremely sensitive songs about life, people and relationships, while others are tongue in cheek. His albums are also sprinkled with classics from the likes of J.J. Cale, Nick Drake, John Martyn, Roy Orbison, the Ink Spots, Jelly Roll Morton and Jimmy Rogers.

Having played abroad and in the U.K., especially in Bristol, the South West, Wales, the Midlands and recently the South East, at clubs, pubs and festivals, he has honed his singing and playing, creating a rich and cohesive sound. MICK Jagger's singer/songwriter brother Chris is set to perform in Bridport on Friday (November 23rd) with his Cajun-flavoured rhythm and blues band.

Chris's trio have been winning more and more followers across the west country from their base in Somerset, with their blend of original songs, uplifting tunes and sense of fun.

Chris together with accomplished fiddle player Elliet Mackrell (Kangeroo Moon, Rory Mc-Cloud) and Dave Hatfield on double bass make a goodly thump and harmonise well across their selection of country, Cajun and hillbilly songs. One to savour.

Doors open at 8pm, tickets are available from Bridport Arts Centre's Box Office (01308 424204) or online at www.bridport-arts.com £7/£5 concessions/ £8 seated upstairs.

On The Road screenings at Arts Centre

JUST after his father's death, Sal Paradise, an aspiring New York writer, meets Dean Moriarty, a devastatingly charming ex-con, married to the very liberated and seductive Marylou. Sal and Dean bond instantly. Determined not to get locked in to a constricted life, the two friends cut their ties and take to the road with Marylou. Thirsting for freedom, the three young people head off in search of the world, of other encounters, and of themselves.

After countless abortive attempts Jack Kerouac's cult novel has finally hit the big screen. The journey was completed by Walter Salles (The Motorcycle Diaries), starring Sam Riley as the author's alter-ego, Sal Paradise, with Viggo Mortensen and Tom Sturridge offering fine support as William Burroughs and Allen Ginsberg. However, like the novel, the true spirit of Kerouac's trip is Dean Moriarty, played by Garrett Hedlund, whose previous performances displayed a fraction of the talent that Salles reveals here. On the Road will be screened at Bridport Arts Centre on Thursday, November 22nd at 1.30pm and 7.30pm, and Sunday, November 25th at 3pm. Certificate 15.

This week's big screen releases

LIFE doesn't always go according to plan. Pat Solatano (Bradley Stiles) has lost everything - his house, his job, and his wife. He now finds himself living back with his mother and father after spending eight months in a state institution on a plea bargain. Pat is determined to rebuild his life, remain positive and reunite with his wife, despite the challenging circumstances of their separation. All Pat's parents want is for him to get back on his feet and to share their family's obsession with the Philadelphia Eagles football team. When Pat meets Tiffany (Jennifer Lawrence), a mysterious girl with problems of her own, things get complicated. Tiffany offers to help Pat reconnect with his wife, but only if he'll do something very important for her in return. As their deal plays out, an unexpected bond begins to form between them, and silver linings appear in both of their lives.

Also starring Robert De Niro, Jacki Weaver, Chris Tucker and Julia Stiles.

HARRY Dean's (Colin Firth) plan to steal a painting from one of the world's richest men is missing one final component — the participation of a beautiful woman to act as his gambit. In Nicole (Cameron Diaz), he meets someone who appears to be the perfect candidate, but Harry himself becomes enraptured with her, causing his plan to take a series of wrong turns.

END OF WATCH 15

TWO young officers are marked for death after confiscating a small cache of money and firearms from the members of a notorious cartel, during a routine traffic stop.

Crime thriller starring Jake Gyllenhall, Michael Peña and Anna Kendrick.

NATIVITY 2 U

THIS sequel to the popular British comedy sees a new teacher (David Tennant) take over. When he enters his school in the National 'Song for Christmas' Competition, he and his pregnant wife, and the schoolchildren, embark on an epic road trip that ends up with a birth and a donkey, where he must embrace his fears and become a hero.

Also stars Thomas Ainge and Adrianna Bertola.

New Toyota Auris: Low running costs, low tax and lasting value

THE appeal of new Auris's sharp looks and driving dynamics is matched by competitively low running and maintenance costs, low tax and lasting value that make it an all-round compelling choice.

The British-built hatchback is attracting significantly higher residual values than its predecessor. while across the board - full hybrid, petrol and diesel powertrains - improvements have been made in fuel efficiency and emissions that mean less money spent at the pumps and lower tax

These factors combine with Toyota's fundamental product quality, reliability and durability, plus sharp contemporary styling and high equipment specifications to make new Auris a strong contender in a hard-fought market.

For example, the top-of-the-range Auris Hybrid Excel (91a/km CO2 emissions and 72.4mpg combined cycle fuel economy) will cost less for a company to offer on its fleet than a more modestly specified, mid-grade Focus, Astra or Golf. For the company car driver, the personal savings are considerable, too: more than £2,000 compared to a Focus with similar power output and more than £1,500 compared to a Golf over three years and 60,000 miles. The mid-grade Auris Hybrid Icon is a similarly attractive proposition, with total driver savings of up to £1,600 over the same timescale compared to key rivals - including low output eco-diesels.

Toyota has re-engineered the 1.4 D-4D diesel engine in Auris and added a Stop & Start system to increase efficiency. As a result, the Icon model produces 103g/km of CO2 and posts official combined cycle fuel consumption of 72.4mpg. This contributes towards a better pence-per-mile cost* to businesses for the Toyota than the Focus, Astra, Golf and Hyundai i30 (reference KWIK carcost data).

Where residual values are concerned, CAP predicts a 34 per cent rating for the new Auris Hybrid Excel, an improvement of five points on the current T Spirit model, and a 35.2 per cent RV for the Auris 1.4 D-4D Icon, a rise of more than six percent age points compared to the current Auris TR.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

Lyme leave it late in semi-final

Derby-day cup wins for Pymore and Uplyme

CREWKERNE TOWN 3 WINSHAM UNITED 2 WINSHAM United tasted defeat for the first time this season as Crewkerne Town gained revenge for their defeat in the Chard Hospital cup final by booking a place in the Coronation cup final.

After a goal less first-half Pethy broke the deadlock when Gary Warren opened the scoring. But good work from Luke Woodland and Jamie Spurdle set-up Ed Butcher for the equaliser.

The Tigers got their noses in front courtesy of a Jason Rendall goal in the 81st minute and Spurdle sealed the win 10 minutes later. Sam Symes grabbed a late consolation for the visitors.

LYME REGIS 2 PERRY STREET 1

AS expected emerging Perry Street provided a much sterner test than when the sides last met. On that occasion, almost a year ago, Lyme steamrollered their way to a 10-1 victory.

It was clear from the outset on Saturday that the visitors had not come to make up the numbers on this occasion.

After a quiet opening a long punt from Lyme'keeper Will Meech bounced through to Julien Simier who rounded Matt Warfield in Street goal but defender Kieran Bailey got back to hack the ball off the line.

Seconds later Lyme skipper Adam Caddy fired a low drive through Warfield's legs, but once again a the ball was cleared off

Then Jason Hawker won a lose ball and squared to Simier. But the French striker skied his 20-yard effort high over the bar.
On the half-hour a long throw-in reached Ben Whittington who acrobatically hooked a bicycle kick that clipped the crossbar

But the half ended with the Seasiders having carved out the best chances but the visitors, under popular manager lan Hilton, having enjoyed a more than equal share of the territorial advantage without creating too much.

The second-half began with Mark Bailey pouncing on some hesitancy in 'The Moth ers' defence and flicking a chance just wide of the upright from the edge of the area. The deadlock was finally broken in the 56th minute when Simier was clipped in the box and calmly rolled home the resulting penalty for his ninth goal of the cam-

Street responded and a Rvan Mason cross drifted over Meech but grazed the top of the crossbar. Then Liam Riste surged through the inside right channel before smashing a shot that Meech parried and paced the labouring Seasiders defence and this time guided home a neat shot for his 11th goal of the season.

Amazingly the striker, on target for the eighth game in row, had a third identical chance in a seven minute purple patch but this time screwed his shot across the face

At this point Lyme manager introduced Nelly Fadiga off the bench and the tal-ented midfielder went close straight away but was denied at point-blank range by a brave stop fromWarfield.

Then it was Simier's turn to have a trio of chances. First he squandered a golden chance with a free header that he glanced wide when appeared easier to score. Moments later he seemed certain to score after Dan Rudge's shot had been spilled but lost his footing at the critical moment.

Finally the 30-year-old striker fizzed in an angled shot that Warfield kept out with an outstretched lea.

And so the game moved into a pro-longed period of injury-time that was entering it's sixth minute when, after a goalmouth scramble, the ball fell to de fender Matt Laing who gleefully lashed the ball into the net from eight yards to book Lyme a place in the final.

Daisy Hutchings Cup R1 CHARMOUTH 1 UPLYME 5

GAVIN Fowler's second hat-trick in seven days helped Uplyme ease to a comfortable

5-1 win in the local-derby at Barrs Lane. The visitors took the lead in the third minute when Fowler netted form the penalty spot after referee Bob Brunt had spotted a handball incident.

That's how it stayed until four minutes after the interval when Fowler produced a neat turn to shake off his marker before coolly slotting home.
The Swallows predatory player-chairman completed his triple on the hour mark. Midfielder Steve Gillan, who has recently called time on his retirement from the game, smashed the ball home after a penalty box melee to make it 4-0 midway through the half.

And when referee Brunt awarded a second penalty soon after Fowler relinquished the spot-kick duties to allow defender Jack Chapple to score his first goal for the club

WAYTOWN HOUNDS 2 PYMORE 3

AFTER goal less first 45 The Hounds got the first goal early in the second-half, when Pymore 'keeper Charlie Youngs raced out of this area to clear the ball, but James ball into the open goal.

Pymore got back on level terms when Hounds"keeper Bill Fleet brought down a Pymore forward and Danny Rawlings stepped up to take the resulting penalty and drilled it low into the bottom corner.

It wasn't long before the Wavtowners were back in front when Loveridge turned and shot from the edge of the area to

The Hounds almost sealed it when Lega cut in from the right and hit a shot that clipped the crossbar and flew over.

Then, with only five minutes left on the clock, the visitors equalised again when a corner was half-cleared by the Hounds and the ball fell to Brandon Scadding who fired

The game then went into extra time and Pymore went ahead for the first time when, in the second period, Tim Hussey rode a couple of challenges before putting the ball out of Fleet's reach.

Loveridge, Leigh Hansford and Steve Batterick were all in fine form for the

BEAMINSTER 4 SOUTH PETHERTON 2
BEAMINSTER showed their battling qualities to come from behind twice before claiming three impressive points at the Memorial Ground. Pethy deservedly took the lead in the 20th minute through lan Harris but the Rainbows equalised straight from the restart through Murray Legg.

Beaminster failed to deal with a lofted

free-kick on the half-hour and were made to pay as Tim John restored the visitors

But the goal fest continued as good work from Legg and Josh Baker set-up Ross Pickett to make it 2-2. And on the stroke of half-time Legg put Beaminster ahead for the first time with his fourth goal in three matches.

The win was secured in the 61st minutes when flying winger Dan Tolman was tripped in the box and Pickett smashed the resulting penalty high into the roof of

Pickett also missed a good chance to complete his hat-trick late-on while Adam Herring, celebrated his call-up to the pick of the league squad with a smart save at the other end

Beaminster manager Sean Annetts was pleased to give influential midfielder Dave a penn a second-half run-out after his sixweek lay-off with a groin injury.

"He's still not quite 10 per cent but it was great to have him back," said Annetts.

SHEPTON Beau 2 FARWAY UNITED 2
SHEPTON Beauchamp's three year unbeaten home league record remains intact despite Aggy Smith's team ending the game with nine men on Saturday.

Farway, stunned the hosts with Andy Diamond giving them an 11th minute lead. But the lead only lasted 10 minutes Sam Murley netting the equaliser.
Then came the first of the red cards.

Shepton skipper Dougie Whitfield fouled on the edge of the area – referee Lance Turner decided the offence had taken place inside the box and awarded the spot-kick and Whitfield, deemed to be the last man, had to walk.

Steve Craft tucked away the penalty but Murley snatched a second leveller before the interval.

The depleted hosts continued to create the better chances but when Hastings received a second yellow card the nine men had to see out the remaining 20 minutes.

Division One

SOUTH PETHERTON RES 2 LYME REGIS RES 4 THERE were two red cards at Lightgate

The game exploded into life in the 11th minute when referee John Thorne showed a straight red card to Pethy's Lee Caines after the midfielde was adjudged to have elbowed Aaron Marshall.

But referee Thorne levelled things up just 10 minutes later when Lyme 'keeper Jedd Whittington was dismissed for dangerous play – a decision which bewildered the Seasiders. "All Jedd did was catch a high cross, but the referee decided he had raised his knee in the challenge with the Pethy striker, " said Lyme player-manager Gerard Hitchcock.

The incident also saw referee Thorne award a penalty. Up stepped Mark Padfield who saw his effort superbly parried by stand-in 'keeper Ryan Turner and then pro-ceeded to smash the loose ball against the crossbar and the first-half ended 0-0.

The Seasiders took the lead in the 54th minute when Alex Rowe netted following good work from Rhys Evans.

It was 2-0 soon after when Matty Preece rounded off a good team move for his first goal for the club.

Preece added his second in the 68th minute before Ally Rattenbury, in his first game off the season after a long injury layoff, scored the pick of the goals - a racking 30-yard free-kick.

A stray back pass from Wallace Black-more allowed Pethy to break their duck before a Mark Padfield free-kick gave Turner no chance after striking Hitchcock who was in the defensive wall.

W & M CHINNOCK 2 NETHERBURY 0

NETHERBURY'S unbeaten start to the season was brought to end as West & Middle Chinnock deservedly took all three points at Oxleaze.

Shooting up the slope the Ambers were under pressure from the start and 'keeper Mark Cuff was also called on to make a fine reaction save.

Going downhill in the second-half Martin Bulman was put through, but his early half volley went wide. The breakthrough came in the 70th minute whenLewis Bloomer fired home from the edge of the box. Netherbury responded well and Phil Hussey had a great chance to but skied his first time shot over the bar from eight

BRIDPORT SQUASH

Bridport stay top after whitewash

BRIDPORT 3RD 20 Two RIVERSMEET 6THS 0

BRIDPORT 3rds continued their impressive form this season with straight game victories by all five players against Two Riversmeet (Christchurch) 6ths WRITES ROGER LEWIS.

Neil Mallender at one established the whip hand early against Kevin Fay and maintained this position throughout the

His firm control from the centre court position coupled with the slaying of any airborne shots mesmerised his opponent and he took the match 9-1, 9-5, 9-2.

Steve Hodder at two was another player who maintained his fine season's form against Dave Kerr. He gave his opponent no time to settle down by his commitment to hitting the ball early resulting in a stamina absorbing game for Kerr.

The ploy worked as Hodder only dropped eight points in the match as he powered through to a 9-1, 9-6 victory. Ed Mamamanta was in his usual impressive form, and his fitness was an asset in overcoming Riversmeet's Mark Williams. The Bridport No 3 was too fast and strong for the struggling Williams, and he maintained the pressure for an easy 9-5, 9-4, Tim Parkman at four had the toughest match against the competent Scott Evans. Both players developed the touch play tactics throughout which resulted in a series of excellent rallies. Parkman is another fit and fast member of the team, and along with his ability to put away the winning shot at the right time gave him an excellent 9-2, 10-9, 10-8 victory.

Paul Cross at five is looked upon as the 'Mr Reliable' of the team, and this proved to be the case in his match against Riversmeet's lady player Mel Degarth.

The sign of a good developing squash player is his ability to induce his opponent into making errors at critical times, and it was this, and Cross' tight play that gave him a sound 9-6, 9-6, 9-1 victory.

LYME REGIS CRIBBAGE Heartening display from debutant

Bob Buckler Racing by Stuart Broom

THERE was good news for the locally based Bob Buckler stable last week with the promising debut of Heart-

The four-year-old filly ran a very encouraging race to land third place in a bumper over two miles on Lingfield's polytrack.

Buckler said: "That was a super run first time out. Dead genuine, tried, she was beaten by a very well backed horse, Pepelina, whilst the horse that beat us by 11/2 lengths, Amazing D'azy, for second, has been third twice in bumpers in her first two runs and obviously has form and experience. No, I was very pleased with

"She also got boxed in at one stage but was brave and went through the gap when it appeared, and but for that might have got second. She could be a very nice little horse.

Having written that Double Dizzv had been retired two weeks ago after pulling up in the Haye Jousselin Chase at Autieul, connections decided to give him another chance, and he made an appearance in the Glenfarclas Cross Country Chase at Cheltenham on Saturday, the race in which he finished third last year.

He did complete the challenging 3m7f course comprising a variety of obstacles, finishing tenth of the eleven finishers in the field of sixteen, after which both the horse and jockey Andrew Glassonbury both received praise from Buckler

"The connections decided to give him one more chance, and although he didn't really want to go out into the country a second time, he didn't disgrace himself.

He jumped amazingly, I reckon on average he made two lengths on the field at each fence, but he doesn't love racing in between times.

the most amazing, brilliant ride. Nobody would have earned their money more than him; he just kept him as interested as he could for a long as he could.

"The ground was very testing, and if this is to be his last run has gone out on a semi-high really. His jumping kept him in there; it was brilliant.

Buckler was however disappointed with the running of Malin Head who he expected to win the Michael Trickey Birthday Handicap Chase at Taunton over 2m7f, but could only finish last of the five finishers.

"It mystified me! I thought he would win the race quite easily. The ground was actually softer that we wanted; it rode a lot softer than reported; but even so that should not nave stopped him."

It's possible he may have pulled a muscle because he was lame for two days after the race.

Buckler said: "His jumping went downhill, and he's normally a brilliant jumper, so whether he pulled a muscle somewhere and it was quite sore, we are not sure. It would probably account for his lameness. It just proves as I have said before they are not machines."

Cullahill ran a creditable fourth in the 3m Weatherbys 2013 Point-To-Point Annual Handicap Chase at Lud-

"He ran a very good race. Ludlow's quite a fast, tight track and he got a little outpaced down the back. He then was boxed in and got bumped turning in that pushed him back a bit, but he stayed on again strongly. It was a very pleasing run for an old horse."

He was due to race again at Folkestone on Tuesday.

There was disappointment for the stables trio of runners at Exeter last Wednesday.

Quix's showing was possibly the fences down the back straight because of the low sun in the 3m handicap chase.

Buckler said: "He's an enigma. On his previous running in the high-class novice chase at Exeter, in that company he should have had a very good chance.

"Taking the fences didn't help him because he's a thinker and a good jumper, and so he ran about 11/4 miles with nothing to keep him occupied and he lost interest. He fell later after making a slight mistake but was not interested by then.

"He will be given one more chance because he works brilliantly at home and so we will give him one more chance at Folkestone on December 4th. It's a flater, faster track, over the shorter distance of two miles and we will fit blinkers and fire him out in front

La Madonnina was pulled up two from home in the mare's novice hurdle over 2m3f although it is possible she had been suffering from a back problem, possibly a pulled muscle from much earlier in the race.

"She jumped poorly and was holding her tail awkwardly at the end of the race which suggests something's not quite right, so she will be seeing a physio this week to check her out," said Buckler

Double or Quitz was having his first race for just over two years following a leg problem, and although never threatening, was adapting to life on the track when three fences from home jockey Giles Hawkins pulled him up when a horse fell in front of him.

"He did blow a bit when turning up the hill which is fine, you would expect that first time back, but he could have finished. Unfortunately a horse which saw Giles pull him up."

Basketball

Evolution slow out of the blocks

Culm Valley Comets 92 Bridport Evolution 52 A SLOW start cost Bridport Evolution dear as their depleted squad were leapfrogged in the Somerset Basketball League by Culm Valley Comets.

Having started the season well, with two wins in three, Bridport are currently having to rebuild their squad after two key players moved away and another remains sidelined with in-Áfter a slow start the skeleton squad put in a valiant second half performance but were unable to find an answer to the Comets 6'9" centre, who scored 28 of his sides points, or their three point shooting, with 27 points from behind the arc. After arriving late to the Friday night game the Bridport side had a limited warm up and consequently struggled to get going early on.

The home side took advantage of this and their extra sharpness helped them build a 30 point lead by half time.

In the second-half Bridport began to stage a comeback but with such a small squad the pace of the game soon caught up with them and eventually the visitors had to concede defeat.

Despite the loss there were some positive performances with Ally Hughes scoring nine points and leading the rebounding with 12 boards, both a season's best for him

Player-coach Tom Glover added 15 points and 11 rebounds as well has leading the assists on the night and debutant Pavel Dimitrov scored his first six points for the side with two three

Captain Craig Sorrell had a quiet night by his own high standards but this didn't stop him scoring 19 points, while Gavin King and Carlos Altuzarra-Leon both had their best games for the club so far.

Neil Gray completed the line up and put on a tough defensive display against a much bigger side and is still carrying the cuts and bruises to prove it.

Coach Tom Glover said: "It was a massive disappointment to lose this game as with our full squad available we would have won it comfortably. That said I don't want to take anything away from those who did play. There were some really good performances, especially from the new guys, but with only eight players we just didn't have the legs.

"There is quite a gulf in class between the bottom four and the top five in this league and it's very hard to cause an upset in haskethall

"We're currently second in that bottom four with two games in hand so I'm fairly happy with that. We play Culm Valley again in the last game of the season at home so that could now prove to be a vital match."

Bridport face their toughest challenge yet this Friday night when they travel to second place Bridgwater Baltics who have only lost once this season.

Training sessions for the team are on Monday nights at Bridport Youth Centre from 7pm and are open to all aged 14+.

Players and points – Sorrell 19, Tom Glover 15, Ally Hughes 9, Dimitrov 6, Gray 2, King 1, Altuzarra-Leon, Ross Hughes.

BRIDPORT Amateur Boxing Club coach Alan Slaney believes Saturtournament at Freshwater Holiday Park is one not to be missed.

With five Bridport boxers on the bill and celebrity boxers Lee Haskins and Jamie Speight in attendance to make the presentations, it certainly looks to be another cracking evening.

Tickets for the event that starts at 7.30pm are going quickly but can still be purchased from Timpson's in West Street, or Bridport Sports Shop in East Street, priced £15.

Tickets will also be available on the door and food will be available through the evening.

THE leaders of Bridport Bowling Club's Short Mat League, Team H, were knocked off their perch by Team F (Roger Humphries Smith, Mary Corfield, Tom and Marion Tocher) who won 10-3, 8-5 and 5-4 to take eight points.

This allowed Team A (David and Joan Smith, Jill Harding, Bob Seadon and Rosemary Brooks) to move into top spot after taking six points from Team G.

Team C (Robert Fifeld, Mary Marsh, Thelma Pratt, Christine and Brian Neale) also secured eight points by winning 13 - 2, 7-6 and 8-2 over Team E, and jumped three places up the ******

BRIDPORT Men had mixed fortunes over the weekend, losing their National Inter Club Knockout match for the Denny Plate Cup against Dorchester on Saturday but bouncing back in great style to pick up 14 of the 16 available points against Moonfleet (B) in the Wessex League on Sunday.

Dorchester had their top international youngster's playing and it was very much Bridport's 'Dads Army' against a crack Dorchester commando unit, with Brian Rumble's rink going Moonfleet (B) proved a much leveller playing field, as Bridport won on three of the four rinks.

Leading the way were the away rinks of Arthur Stone, Bob Hill, Martin Grier & Chris Thorne and Brian Galpin, Martin Wilton, Keith Brooks & Bob Taylor winning 21-20 and 19-12 respectively. Thorne's four were losing by three, but a four count on the final end gave them the points, while another stong finish gave Taylor their win.

At Bridport, Brian Baker, Max Dare, Keith Gentry & Ken Enticott's four, dropped 2 and 4 counts at the end but still won Meanwhile, Dave Roberts, Phil Hedges, Mel Griffiths & Brian Conisbee got off to a dreadful start but to their credit they battled back to lose 17-29.

BEES NEWS

Bees pay for inconsistency

Bridport Reserves 1 Sherborne Town Res 1 DORSET PREMIER DIVISION

BEES manager Robin Townsend was once again left frustrated by his side lack of ability to remain consistent throughout the game.

Speaking after his side had dropped two more points at home to lowly Sherborne Town Reserves he said: "It's not a lack of effort, perhaps its fitness. Once again we started off very well but after scoring midway through the first-half, seemed to switch off and invite the opposition on to us.

'Then five minutes either side of the interval we pick our game up before going back into our shell. It then appeared Jamie Fry's penalty save 20 minutes from the end gave us another kick up the backside and we took control again."

Townsend again struggled for players. Dom Rowe was still missing with his groin injury and Adam Steele dropped out for family reasons, but Roger Cummings and Dom McAllister were once more available.

The former Lyme Regis boss decided to act on his decision to promote some of the 3rd team players in an effort to get consistency, and gave Luke King a start.

The youngster didn't disappoint and gave an excellent display to enhance his chances of a permanent place in the line-

Townsend said: "Luke took his opportunity with both hands and was a huge positive.

"I was also impressed with Chris Symes who admitted before the game that he wasn't 100 per cent fit and dropped

"Many players would have kept quiet and started in the hope of getting through the match and had to come off, but Chris was honest at the start and I like that kind of attitude."

The Bees held court for the first 20 minutes playing good football and Gary Bulman gave them a deserved lead.

However Sherborne came back into it and although they didn't create too much had most possession until five minutes before the break when Bridport leapt back into life.

The second-half saw brief Bridport dominance before Sherborne took control and deservedly equalised through Jason Bond.

It looked like they would go ahead when Jamie Fry conceded a penalty, but he redeemed himself by saving the resultant spot-kick.

This seemed to fire the Bees again and they created enough chances to have won the game in the last quarter.

"Townsend said: "We created chances throughout particularly at the end but once again didn't convert enough. I think we are lacking confidence in front of goal and perhaps are trying too hard."

Bridport Thirds 0 DORSET LEAGUE DIVISION ONE

BRIDPORT 3rds were no match for Dorset League Division One leaders South Cheriton who included six very experienced players who have played at Western League level and above, amongst their ranks was former Bridport striker Simon

Manager Andy Hitchcock said:" They would have given our reserves a good game. We were once again struggling for players which didn't help, and weren't really in the game."

The dismissal of James Bird midway through the secondhalf for two yellow cards didn't

Nor the loss of 'keeper Lee Cuff, who has decided he will not play again until he has had an operation on his knee scheduled for the week before Christmas; 17-year-old Arthur Gay deputised on his debut.

"Lee won't be available again until the end of January, whilst James cannot complain about his cautions; they were both correct refereeing decisions.

"We are constantly looking out for new players to join the club, so if there are any local footballers who think they can step up to Division One level with the chance of progressing to the first team then please contact me on 07791865196."

SCRUM DOWN: RUGBY ROUND-UP

Scrappy defeat for disjointed Bridport

ternoon watching England in their hideous maroon strip concede far too many penalties and knock too many balls on when in attacking positions to give themselves a chance of

There was a full league programme taking

SHERBORNE 29 DORCHESTER 6

THE visitors, who won both the territorial battle and certainly had an edge possessionwise, could not turn these advantages into points and suffered a bonus point defeat against a side who prospered when running at them, ball in hand.

In fact Sherborne's first score came within five minutes of the kick off when one of their locks galloped over by the posts, untroubled by the defence.

Dorchester did get on the scoreboard via the boot of James Baker but fell further behind when Sherborne's other second rower ran in his side's second try.

The home side added the extras to this one, and added a simple penalty, after the visitors had infringed in front of their own

Again Baker reduced the deficit but, with the score standing at 17-6, the home side were certainly in control at the halfway stage.

The second half was in fact a mirror image of the first, as far as Dorchester were concerned anyway.

They continued to compete up front, but errors blighted their efforts and denied them reward.

The home side cemented the result and bonus point with two further tries, one of which they converted. The first came when one of their centres was the first to react to a loose pass from the visitors near their own line; and the second came after a clean break through the Dorchester midfield. Dorchester kept going until the end but would have ended the day far from satisfied.

Dorchester seconds too did not have the best of days, going down by 48-12 at New Milton seconds.

WEYMOUTH 37 WALCOT 34

ANYONE simply scanning the results would have regarded this one as a great game of rugby, with the result in doubt until the final

In fact that surmise would have been far from the truth. The home side did certainly start the more positive, taking the lead through an early Nick Sheppard penalty goal, and increasing it when influential flanker Harry Charles got over for an unconverted trv.

These were followed in short order by a try from winger Will Quick, converted by Shep-pard, and, at 15-0 ahead, the home side appeared to be in control.

An error let Walcot back into the game however, and they scored a unconverted try in the corner, before skipper Julian Quick countered with a home touchdown, again goaled by Sheppard. Walcot then intercepted and ran the length of the field to touch down and keep them-selves in the contest before embarking on a good spell of pressure that brought them another unconverted try that took the scoreline

Weymouth were conceding too many penalties at this stage, and also saw yellow for some skulduggery or other.

These setbacks did not prevent them from increasing their lead before the break however when the skipper touched down his second try of the afternoon, unconverted this time.

The contest continued in the second-half, with the referee's whistle having a big say, rather to the players' frustration.

The action became a little disjointed, and Walcot took advantage by scoring a converted try, thus bringing themselves to within a score of the lead at 27-22.

Weymouth responded however, and again drew clear when Will Quick ran in his second of the game, converted by Sheppard, who also kicked a penalty goal.

Walcot were not done however. Aided and abetted by the home side's frustrations and loss of focus, they scored two late tries, one of which they converted to again threaten the home lead. They could not do more for soon after the final restart

Not too much joy for the Weymouth second side. It slumped to a 58-0 defeat at the hands of a pacy, well-drilled East Dorset side whose speed and good kicking game brought it nine tries.

Weymouth 3rds too had to endure a 55-5 defeat at Ellingham & Ringwood seconds.

WESTBURY 8 BRIDPORT 7

THERE was neither balance or structure in this less than mediocre Bridport perform-

Although they took the lead before the game was ten minutes old after their number eight, Pibworth, had broken and of-floaded to Wren when checked, and the winger duly completed the move by touching down, for Lester-Card to convert, this was the only high spot. The home side then harassed and spoilt.

Bridport could not string two phases together and it came as no surprise when Westbury reduced the deficit by kicking a penalty goal around the end of the first quar-

An unconverted try, again created and executed by the home pack took them into the lead on the half hour, and both the scoreline and the pattern of play remained unaltered until the whistle for no side sounded the best part of an hour later.

NORTH DORSET 3rd 22 PUDDLETOWN 3

PUDDLETOWN'S useful run of league wins came to an end in rather listless fashion. The home side, after taking the lead with a penalty goal, prospered by scoring a try thanks in no small part to some less than adequate Puddletown tackling. The try remained unconverted and the visitors did rouse themselves just a little and reduced the arrears before the break when skipper Yeatman kicked a penalty after a home infringement to take the scoreline to 8-3 at the halfway stage.

They were still in the hunt at this stage, but old habits reasserted themselves in the sec-

They continued not to compete at the breakdown, and let their opponents in for two converted tries in the second-half as they slumped to defeat. Not the best way to warm up for a cup semi-final!

BY KEITH JENKIN

PREVIEW

PUDDLETOWN have a game on Saturday next, the result of which may be pivotal to their degree of success this season.

They entertain POOLE in a contest that apart from being a league fixture, is also the semi final of the Dorset & Wilts Vase Compe-

Their opponents lie in the division's mid table and results so far this season would appear to indicate that, if Puddletown show their "A" game, they should be able to proceed to the vase final, and perhaps gath a four try bonus point in the win that will bolster their promotion chances.

They should not be complacent however for their opponents have upset one or two sides during the season to date. They will have to play better than they did on Saturday last also.

BRIDPORT have a tester in prospect with the visit of SALISBURY 2nds. Their opponents lie just one place above them in the Dorset & Wilts League Division One (South) table, but have scored tries in abundance in their campaign thus far and, like Bridport, have won five of their six outings to date.

This would appear to indicate that they have attacking potential and the home side will most certainly have to look to both their defence and to their penalty count.

They have, in Lester-Card however, someone who seemingly kicks goals for fun, and, in view of that they certainly have a chance. They will have to be at their best however if they are to win this one.
